A NEW PUBLIC AWAKENING?

Although burdened with the thought of those Christmas bills appearing on numerous credit cards and the alarm felt by many people in the way that Britain appears to be hurtling headlong into a war with Iraq, there has been an upsurge of interest in the subject of UFO's.

Could it be the return of the 'Triangles' in this area? Probably not, more likely it is as a result of the first two episodes of Steven Spielberg's new epic Sci-fi television venture 'Taken'.

Journalists have started 'knocking on the door' to obtain fresh UFO material for their forthcoming feature stories. There is no doubt that the new 'Taken' TV series currently being shown has aroused public interest and curiosity about the UFO subject.

As we are about to go into print, NASA has released a series of sensational coloured photographs taken from their 'SOHO' satellite imaging system. A selection of the photographs has been featured in the 'Daily Star' of January 15th (see 'Tale Enders' for details).

In this issue of the OVNI we have also included a number of the very latest 'FT' reports, showing that far from going away, these large glowing mysterious craft are still very much with us.

The main feature this months covers an interview with a local family that have been plagued with Poltergeist activity and more.....The incidents experienced by the family raises the whole issue about the Alien presence on Earth and their purpose for being here.

If you, the reader, have any theories or comments on this story, then please let us know and we will be pleased to include your observations in the next OVNI.

Apart from the stories reported in this months journal, we have received a wealth of material for publication, but because of our limited space, this has to be carefully filtered and selected.

We have been informed by Rense.com, that a group of Britain's foremost team of professional 'Monster Hunters' are travelling to Northumberland next week (commencing 20th Jan.) in order to investigate a story of an 8ft monster appearing out of Bolam Lake in rural Northumberland. The four man team is from the Centre for Fortean Zoology, based in Exeter.

The Fortean group hit the headlines all around the world last year when they successfully went in search of a monstrous creature that had been attacking swans at a Lancashire Nature Reserve. On that occasion the culprit turned out to be a giant catfish from Eastern Europe! What will they find this time?

From Dr. Richard Boylan, Ph.D.,LLC', we have read of the prophecies translated from the Mayan calendars by the Guatemalan expert, Carlos Barrios. He has referred to many of the prophecies, but one seems relevant at the present time: "If war happens in November 2002 or after, then it's bad but not catastrophic. But if it happens between April and November 2003, it will be catastrophic. Really bad. It could eventually result in the death of two-thirds of humanity!"

Do not dismiss this warning offhand, for when the 11 Spanish Galleons arrived with Hernando Cortez on Sunday, April 21, 1519, the Maya native people were gathered on the beach waiting for their appearance....

Mrs WPM : Contactee Extraordinary

Interviewed by Omar Fowler on 16th November 2002

The 'W' family consisting of the mother father, two sons and a daughter, live within a few miles of the city of Derby. Over the years they have suffered numerous experiences similar in many ways to Poltergeist activity as well as having UFO sightings over their home.

The mother Mrs 'W' has had a number of what appear to be 'contactee' experiences in the past, while in a dream-like state. However there was one occasion when two 'Men-in-Black' appeared in their home, and were also seen by her husband...but that's another story.

Mrs W related her more recent experiences:

"There was an incident, which you might not think it ties in with anything, but it does to me because this was really strange, things like this happen frequently and normally, I get up and see what's around."

"What happened was, we were all in bed one night and I heard it. There was the biggest crash that you could ever imagine it sounded as if my glasses (glass collection) had smashed. My son and I got up and went into the passageway, where a large picture had fallen from the wall and lodged itself behind a line of glasses. We had heard the sound of smashing glass, but there was nothing broken! There is no way that such a large heavy picture could have fallen without smashing the glasses below! There was nothing smashed, even though we had heard the sound of smashing glass. The pictures had been fixed firmly to the wall, as my husband used to be a joiner...."

"Yes, they were plugged and screwed," said Mr W and their son added "Logic tells you that the painting would have fallen down and smashed all the glasses on the shelf!"

Mrs W continued: "Things have happened in our previous house, but it's worse here. Anyway, the next night, I had a really strange dream, I had a dream about my Mum, who has passed away. In the dream there was me, my husband and my little girl. My Mum had bought me the pictures years ago and I thought that the picture had fallen down and smashed."

"My Mum said 'I've bought someone to see you'. I said, but you're dead, she replied 'I am, but it's not me that's doing all these things, it's somebody that's been watching you all of your life!' I said who is that? She said 'Look to that side and look on the wall.' I turned and as I looked on the wall and there was this image of what everybody knows as a 'Grey', I could see his head and shoulders and his hands. 'I want you to go to him and touch his hands', said my mother, so I did. In this dream, I touched his hands and they weren't as I expected, they were very very cold, like a cold wet velvet! He was looking at me and he said he was over a thousand years old. I know it sounds ridiculous, but that's what he said. He got hold of my hands for ages and ages and then he just let go. Then I woke up and I woke my husband and told him of this dream that I had just had (Mrs W's husband nodded and agreed). It just seemed so real."

"The next day I went to a card shop in the town to buy a card, I could still feel the cold clamminess on my hands. As I walked into the shop and wandered around, I noticed that the man who was the manager of the shop was staring at me. I looked around and there was only me in the shop, a few others came in and went. So I got my card and as I went up to the counter the man said 'Can I have a word with you a minute?' I went over to him and he said 'Have you noticed that I've been staring at you?' I said that yes I had, I thought that he might have thought I was shoplifting! He said 'No, I want to look at your hands, don't take this the wrong way, but I want to look at your hands.' He continued, 'When you were walking around, I thought you had the most brilliant diamond rings on that I had ever seen!'

Mrs W continued, "I've got rings, but I didn't have any on at that time. He said 'I'm not a weirdo, but I saw brilliant white light coming out of your hands, it dazzled me. I don't want you think I'm a strange man, but I've never seen anything like it before!' "Yes, that's what you told me" added Mr W. "I made a note on the calendar, it was 4th March 2002" said Mrs W.

At this stage it would be prudent to point out that Mrs W's mother and grandmother had both had psychic abilities and were quite well known in their own right. This family trait may well have been passed on to Mrs W and might account for her ability to 'see' people and events of both the past and future.

Apart from the incident with the crashing of the picture frame, there has been numerous incidents of small 'orbs' darting about the room. This was confirmed by all members of the family during my interview.

Mrs W continued recounting numerous incidents in the house:

"There's orbs flying about in here all of the time, I know it sounds ridiculous but the place is just alive with them some nights." "Yes", commented her husband, "You see that many of them, you get sick of it after a bit" added her son. "You can't help but see them, there's white ones and there's black ones. The black ones move really quick." "They dart" added Mrs W. "The white ones are more of a fluorescent blue and they move more slowly, whereas the black ones dart." The family members present, nodded in agreement.

"There's the odd time when we've seen a crack of light, mainly in this corner" said Mr W, (indicating), "It's like a flash of light." "We've also, this sounds so silly", he continued "We've had drops of water coming from the ceiling, I've had it on my arm, likes drops of water." "It happened to my sister, I've had it, he's had it" said Mrs W, nodding towards her son. "The thing is when you look at your arm, there's nothing there, but you do feel like there's water on your arm. It feels wet, yet to look at it, it's not wet. It's as though you are standing under a tree and the droplets are falling on you" said the son.

O.F. These experiences are following your family around aren't they!

"Yes we seem to have brought them with us" said Mrs W. "There's knockings, there's banging, you can hear people walking about. You can get up, but there's never anybody there."

"We don't fear it, we just take it as it comes" commented Mr W. "We're used to it now you see and it hasn't hurt us" said his wife.

"Then there are the knocking noises. I heard them one night right next to the bed and the same thing happened the next night. The next morning, my husband said 'were you knocking last night?' I said, no I thought it was you. Now we just take it as it comes."

Mrs W continued: "It seems that when you get a lot of activity in the house, then you see things outside as well." "Yes, you see things outside" added her husband.

"We've gone through three kettles in a year" said Mrs W. "Three kettles and an iron" said her husband, "Then there's the light bulbs, I have to buy them by the bagful, as every time she touches a light switch it blows the light."

"What about the TV, when it changes channels by itself, it goes up and down" said the son M. "Yes, I've seen that myself" said his father. "Then there's my CD player" said the son, "Some nights it will just switch itself on in the middle of the night and play, say track five, my favourite song. I get sick of just being woken up by it! For that to switch itself on by itself is impossible. You can't switch it on by remote control, you have to go up to it and switch it on. I got that frustrated with it, I told my mum, I'm not sleeping in there tonight!"

Mrs W continued, "I often see the orbs out of the corner of my eye while I'm watching television and once I saw this mist forming and it moved along the wall." "I'm glad you said that, because I've seen that as well" said her husband.

"The orbs are about the size of a golf ball" said her son. "It's as though someone has painted a golf ball black and thrown it past you and they change direction, they go in all directions. The white ones are not so fast, it's as though they are slowly floating."

Mrs W added, "My sister visited us one day and she said 'What was that? I've just seen black things darting about the room', so she saw them as well."

Contactee: contd.

Mrs W: "We still talk about that time I saw the 'Grey', I don't normally see them like that, not as much as the others."

O.F : What others figures do you see?

Mrs W: "The tall one's, the one's with the white robes, some of them have long blonde hair, they have very light hair."

Mr W: "There's some that you see that don't show their faces, they have like a hood on." His wife replied, "They don't always show their faces, but I've seen their faces.....Something happened last year that I have never told anyone about, it might just have been a coincidence, but it did upset me and I wouldn't tell anyone."

Son 'M': "It made her physically ill."

Mrs W: "Yes it did, it made me feel ill. What happened was, you know the 9/11 'Twin Towers', well it was the Friday night (7th Sept.) and I had a really bad dream and I got up on the Saturday and I came in here (lounge) and I said I feel really, really upset, I did, it made me feel ill."

Son 'M': "She didn't want to talk about it or anything."

Mrs W: "I was physically upset, I had a dream that I was in this UFO and I was overlooking this, what I said, was an island. I could see the land with water coming around it like this (pointing), I saw the tall buildings and these beings with the long white robes on were standing at the side of me. For some reason, I couldn't turn around and look at them. I tried to, but I couldn't."

"I was being made to watch this thing happen. They said there was going to be this terrible tragedy where there would be...I know they said a figure three, but I couldn't remember the exact number...I told you didn't I (talking to her husband, who nodded in agreement). I saw the impact of this fireball hit this tall building and I knew, I was there, I knew that all these people had been killed!"

"They (the Aliens) said this was what was going to happen, it was not going to be a natural tragedy, but it was going to be humans killing other people. I actually saw the impact and I knew then that people were dead!"

"I tried to turn around and I said 'can't you stop this? you're showing it to me, but why can't you do something about it?' They said to me that they can't intervene in matters like that, but that they would be there when those people.....I know this sounds stupid doesn't it, but they said that they would be there when those 'souls' left their physical bodies and they would be there to help them."

"They were not allowed to stop what was going to happen, because it was the human beings that were doing it, but they would be there when the souls left their bodies, to get their souls. I know it sounds ridiculous, but that's what they said. I saw the figure '3' and I didn't know whether it was 3,000 or 30,000. I wrote that down somewhere as well."

O.F. (speaking to Mrs W's husband) Did she tell you about his, before it happened?

Mr W: "Yes, it's just as she said, she told me before it happened, in fact she looked really distraught and sick that morning and I said to her, what's up, what's the matter, but she said she didn't want to talk yet."

Son 'M': "When that happened, it scared all of us, didn't it."

Mr W: "On the day when it happened (Tuesday 11th Sept.) she was really bad, she was worse and she was sobbing."

O.F.: You had the dream on the Friday night and you told your husband and son, before it happened....

Mrs W replied "Yes." and then showed me a note on the calendar, which she had kept. Written in on Saturday 8th Sept 2001 were the words 'Bad Dream'!

Contactee: contd.

O.F.: When you were shown this event, how did they show it to you and what did you actually see?

Mrs W: "If they want to show you anything or any events, then they bring this hologram down. I saw this tall building, I saw water all around this tall building. They didn't exactly say where it was, they just said that they were concerned that this was happening and so many people were being killed by other human beings.....I tried to turn away, because I didn't want to see it, but they said 'No, we think the same as you, we are horrified and disgusted that people of the same species can do this to one another.' I said why don't you stop it, if you know it's going to happen then stop it!" They replied 'We can't do that, we can't intervene.'

O.F: Could you describe these figures next to where you were standing?

Mrs W: "I couldn't, I was paralysed, all I saw was the long robes either side of me, but I have seen them before. The last time I saw them was when Gorbachev was kidnapped by the Military. I was also shown this the day before it happened and I told my husband about it and then it happened."...Her husband nodded in agreement, "Yes" he said.

Mrs W: "I did see their faces then, they were sitting in a half circle and the one that spoke to me was sat in the middle. These had shorter light coloured hair and they were all tall."

O.F. The conversation then changed to discuss other strange events that had occurred in the house. This included items of cutlery bending during their mealtime.

Mr W recounted the incident. "I was eating my dinner and my fork just bent." "Straight over" said Mrs W. Their son added, "I laughed at it" (then it happened to him). "I was sitting there eating my dinner and I was watching the 'telly', you don't actually look at your fork, then suddenly my fork bent right over and followed the shape of my knuckles. I said to my mother, this isn't funny any more!" His father added, "It (the fork) didn't go forward, it just went backward. It went as soft as butter."

"I had a psychic experience once, when my best friend Doris died" said Mrs W. "Her husband eventually married again and although we remained friends, we really didn't keep in touch. We got on OK with his wife, she was nice. Then one night, I had this dream, I saw my friend, the one that had died and she told me that her husband had taken down this picture of her. Well I hadn't seen him for a year and I hadn't had any contact with him. I thought I can't just ring up out of the blue, telling him to 'put that picture back, the picture that you took down.' I could end up looking a right Charlie."

"But the thought would not go, it just kept on at me pushing, pushing," said Mrs W. "I said to him (nodding towards her husband) it's no good, I've got to ring up even at the chance of sounding crazy. Anyway, I rang up and he (the widowed husband) came to the phone. He asked how I was, then I said to him, I've got to tell you something, I've had a dream. Doris is very upset that you took down a picture of her and she wants it putting back! Now if it's not true, fine I've told you....then the phone went dead."

"After a little while his wife came on the phone and said can I explain something to you. It wasn't my fault! Before Doris died, she had a portrait painted of herself, he (her husband) thought I didn't like it and he's just taken it down. Two days ago he just took it down and put it away, but it wasn't me that told him to do it. I'm quite happy with her picture being on the wall, but he thought it wasn't nice as he's married to me now."

"Shortly afterwards he (the husband) came back on the phone and he was crying. I said I'm sorry I've upset you but I didn't know.....The picture's back there now, it's been back there ever since."

O.F. I could have stayed longer listening to the experiences of the 'W' family, but I felt that I had heard enough to convince me of the strange goings on in their little family home.

THE WPM FAMILY: AN ANALYSIS

What strange events this family appears to have experienced! For the benefit of our new readers I would just mention that several years ago this family was the subject of a investigation at an earlier address, when equally strange events apparently took place.

We appear to have a mixture of Psychic and Poltergeist phenomena apparently linked in some way to the extraterrestrial/UFO phenomenon. Let us examine the various incidents.

The family unit consists of Mrs 'W' the mother, her husband, a teenager son, a younger son and a young handicapped daughter.

In carrying out an investigation it is always preferable to have a witnesses story substantiated by another witness, whether they are a member of the same family or not. I have in the past, met a stony wall of silence when a member of the family has claimed to have witnessed an event of some kind.

In contrast, all members of the 'W' family (excluding the young girl) keenly confirmed a number of the events and even added their own interpretation of what had taken place at the time. It seems extremely unlikely that this was a family conspiracy, as the eager description of events appeared to be spontaneous.

The 'knockings', smashing glass sounds and falling pictures are consistent with poltergeist activity and at that stage one looks for a younger member of the family possibly attracting this interaction. But the message from the dead mother of Mrs 'W', although explainable in psychic terms, throws us somewhat with the appearance of a 'Grey' projected onto the wall. The actual physical contact of the grasping the hands, by Mrs 'W' seems out of context in this scenario, although it would be acceptable more in the 'dream' state of mind of the contactee. We have on record 'contactee's describing their 'O.O.B.' (Out-of-the-body) experiences, while still physically being in the same room as their partner! Are we to believe that the souls 'of those that have passed over' are in the same dimension as the Aliens?

The story of the shopkeeper speaking to Mrs 'W' about her 'glowing hands' is currently being investigated in an effort to obtain confirmation of this incident. The 'flying orbs' and a feeling a water droplets falling on people in the house can be accepted as a known psychic phenomena.

The fact that Mrs 'W's grandmother was a medium and that her mother had psychic abilities makes it extremely probable that Mrs 'W' has also been gifted in this way. This could account for her ability to have such vivid messages while in a dream state. The message from the dead wife about her picture being moved is a prime example.

Without doubt, the most sensational revelation is the claimed dream meeting with 'Aliens' (they appear to be the 'Nordics') when Mrs 'W' was shown the '9/11' disaster scenario. Contactees have often stated in the past that they have been shown pictures/hologram presentations of impending disasters on Earth, but this has usually consisted of starving millions or Earthly disasters such as earthquakes etc.

If we accept that such presentations are made to 'contactees' then we must accept Mrs 'W's '9/11' story of seeing the 'fireball' hit the tall buildings surrounded by water. A description acceptable if the actual location is not identified by the witness. We have also heard before that the extraterrestrials 'Cannot intervene with events on Earth'.

The really astounding revelation is Mrs 'W's claim that when the hologram displayed '9/11' disaster took place, the Alien 'Nordics' stated that "They would be there when those souls left their physical bodies and would be there to help them!"

To my knowledge, the implication that the Aliens are not only interdimensional but interactive with our human 'souls' is an entirely new concept. We are dealing with not only the mystery of extraterrestrial entities but with interdimensional entities. There is also the question of whether the Aliens can travel in time? A number of 'contactees' have been told that 'time is of our own making' and Peter Gregory, a well known Psychic has stated "The Past, Present and Future are but different perceptions of the same moment."

‘FT’ OVER DERBY: DECEMBER 2002

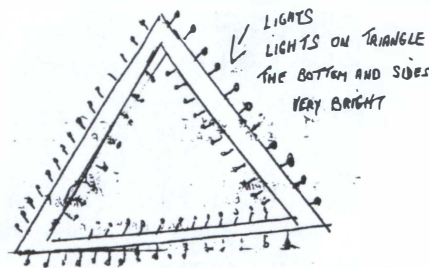

Mr Roy Crabtree of Grosvenor Street, Derby claims to have witnessed a hovering ‘Flying Triangle’ over Derby on a number of occasions. It seems that Mr Crabtree is in the habit of ‘popping outside’ at the same time each night (9pm) and he has frequently observed a green/white illuminated FT in the same position “as though it was observing something”.

His most recent sighting took place at 9pm on the night of the 10th December 2002, when he was able to observe the craft for a period of about ten minutes (see sketch).

Previous to his most recent sighting he had seen the FT in the same position some 6-7 weeks previously.

When asked what he thought was unusual about the sighting he commented “The lights and the way it stopped at that same place. When I see it, I have the feeling that something looks down on you. I always have that strange feeling.” He also added that “The dogs were barking a lot.”

The Chellaston area of Derby where Mr Crabtree lives has often been the scene of UFO activity in the past.

The lights were described as Green and White

‘FT’ SEEN OVER NOTTINGHAM

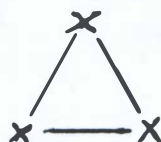

(From the BBC Radio Derby website)

Omar, This concerns a past sighting going back a couple of months now (making it early October 2002), but I haven’t told anyone about it, other than a few colleagues at work and was ridiculed.

I work as a Projectionist at a Cinema in Nottingham. It was around 10.15pm when I left the ‘Screen 1’ projection room (which incidentally has its access via a set of stairs to the roof of the building), to go down to the office. I returned to the projection room at around 10.30pm to catch the end of the feature. While walking across to the projection room entrance, I sighted three strange lights at quite low level, moving at a very rapid speed.

It was a clear night, no Moon, but I could see the stars. Luckily the cinema is located next to an estate ‘tower block’ of flats, from which I managed to get a rough estimation of the ‘object’. I would say that it was about 100ft above the top of the tower block flats, the block being about 120ft in height. The lights themselves were in a triangular shape., with thin lines that you could just make out between them.

The lights were yellowy/white coloured, similar to a faded yellow lighting filter. There were no other lights visible. I tried looking for flashing ‘aviation lights’ as fitted on all aircraft, but the three lights were all that was visible. The object travelled from a South East direction to a North West direction (diagonally) and went straight overhead. I heard no engine sound from the object. It travelled very smoothly, but very quick. The entire sighting lasted 30-40 seconds.

Roddy Buxton

“THE MOST PUZZLING OBJECT I HAVE EVER SEEN!”

(Mr E.S.Saunders commented after seeing an FT over Newthorpe, Nottingham 9th December 2002.)

I was walking down my garden path to lock up my garage, the time was 5.55pm on the 9th of December.

I was struck by the brightness of the few days old ‘New Moon’. It was in the SW at about 30 degrees elevation. The clarity (of the night) caused me to look upwards, as I often do and there almost overhead at an elevation of 80 degrees and travelling South-westerly was a very bright light. It moved at about the same speed as satellites that I have seen and the speed was constant. However there seemed to be more than just a bright light, it was as though there were large protrusions, I thought possible solar panels. I thought ah’ could it be the new International Space Station?

Then it came to a halt at about 60 degrees elevation and assumed the appearance of being longitudinally positioned. I could then see that it was clearly Delta/Triangular shaped with a pointed end facing in my direction.

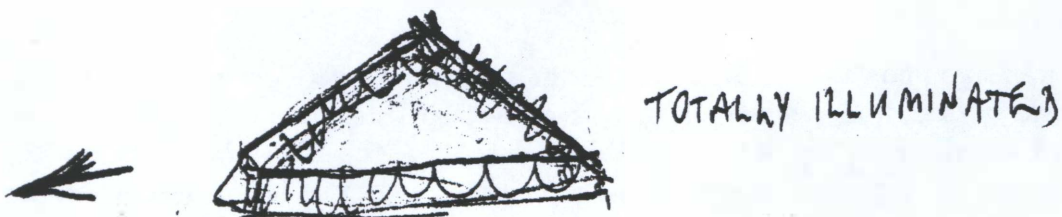

I was puzzled by the sudden change of shape, as it had developed from being a bright light, to a fully lit up Delta shape! The outline of the shape was quite clear and it was now much larger than the original light. It was stationary for 5 - 10 seconds. Then another light appeared of a faint star magnitude, it was very fast and seemed much higher. It came from a NE direction but was weaving to the left and right against the star background and then it disappeared!

I turned back to view the original (FT) as it moved to its right without changing its orientation. In other words it just moved ‘sideways’. I judged that at arms length, the distance it moved sideways was the length of about four fingers, held loosely but not spread. Then it simply disappeared! There may have been some patchy cloud, but I just couldn’t see any and can only assume that.

When it appeared as a delta shape and fully illuminated, the light was not of a brightness or white, but one can only say ‘unwhite’ - like an electric bulb not at full voltage.

It appeared like a very large hang glider - no noisy engines, no strobe lights, but hang gliders don’t just hover and move sideways. They could sideslip but would have to lose height and this one didn’t!

I have watched artificial satellites for years, but this light came to a standstill, then moved to the left (it’s right) and after being distracted by the other light, when I looked back, it just moved away and disappeared. I continued my observation for several minutes, but this was uneventful.

Mr Saunders drawing shows the typical ‘Flying Triangle’ shape. The arrow shows the sudden sideways motion witnessed, without any change in the orientation.

FT ENCOUNTER IN 1998 "A FRIGHTENING EXPERIENCE"

Mr R.E.Dowdeswell a UFO witness, recently revealed to PRA researcher Colin Saunders, details of his encounter with a 'Flying Triangle' in the summer of 1998. He recounted his experience:

I was taking my girlfriend home from Barwell (Leicestershire) to Newboco Verdon in the summer of 1998, it was a regular run for me.

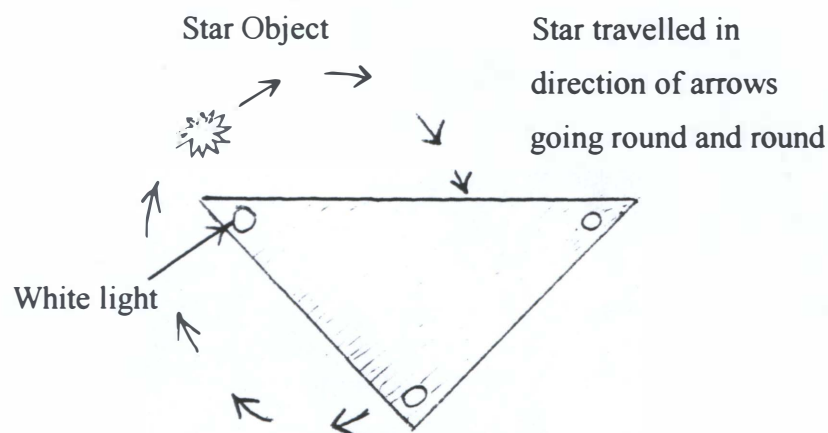

As we were coming out of Barwell, the time was about 10.20pm. On this road there is a place when you can see the 'Caterpillar works (large tractor production factory) As we approached the works we saw a huge black triangular craft hanging in the air just above it. The (FT) craft had a hazy-like heat haze around it.

We stopped for a minute to observe the stationary craft and we saw a star-like object detach itself from the craft and fly round and round it. The star-like light and the three lights on the triangle were very bright but the rest of it was dim.

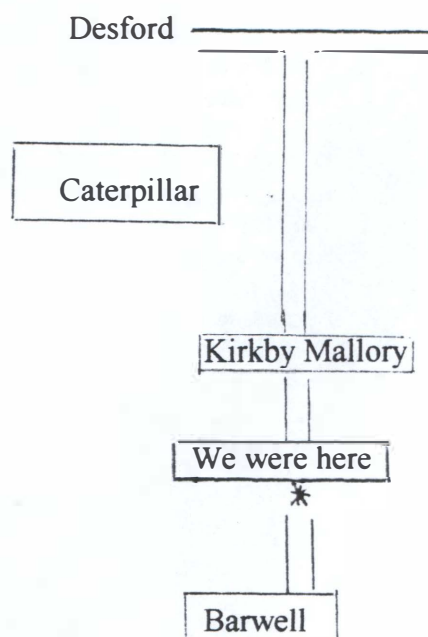

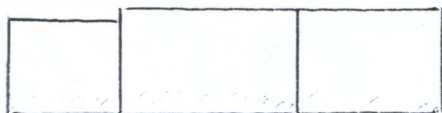

From where we were sitting, the size of the craft was about that of a £2 coin held at arms length.

At this stage we both became very frightened. I didn't stop to see what happened next and I quickly drove off and away at speed.

I am interested in technology and my impression was that 'we' didn't possess this type of technology.

UFO SIGHTING NEAR BOSCOMBE DOWN IN 1997

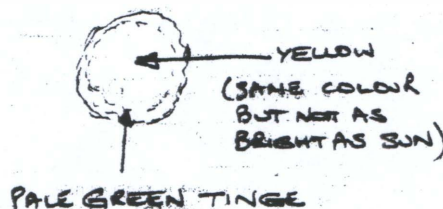

We have received a report via 'Busty' Taylor the well known Crop Circle aerial photographer regarding a sighting by a Miss I.F. near the Boscombe Down airfield in Wiltshire.

I had been to visit a friend of mine in Farley and I was driving on the perimeter road south of Boscombe Down and going towards the Amesbury/Salisbury road (A345). The time was between 5.15pm -5.30pm on the 28th January 1997.

Then I became aware that a single large light was approaching from behind me, (East/Middle Wallop area) and heading in my direction. It was at a height similar to that used by low flying jets.

The light was yellow with a hazy green edge. It was something like a fireball but although bright, was not as bright as the sun. It was travelling at a tremendous speed and flew past in seconds, heading into the far distance at a gradual incline at about 30 degrees.

I do not think it was a 'shooting star', as there was no trail left behind it. There were no other coloured lights such as aircraft identification lights visible to me.

Miss 'I.F.'s drawing of the 'fireball'.

UFOs VISIT THREE NEIGHBORING TOWNS IN LEICESTERSHIRE

The United Kingdom UFO Network's newsletter of August 1, 1996 reprinted this story from the Hinckley, Leics. Herald and Journal of July 10, documenting a UFO flap in that section of Britain.

"On the evening of Sunday, June 23, several witnesses looked into the skies and saw some kind of craft, described as a huge triangular mass with two glowing white lights. One Barwell witness managed to photograph the object and these are currently being examined by top investigators."

"James Cox of Wolvey saw the UFO at 9:53 p.m. and described it as huge and definitely not an aircraft in that there was no sound or flashing lights."

"Mr. Bill Gail saw the object just before 10 p.m. Mr. Gail of Ruston Drive, Hinckley said it appeared to hover before going northwest at speed."

"The chairman of the Leicester UFO Research Society, Mr. Colin Hill, said his unit has had similar sightings reported to them as far back as the 1970s."

The above article has been sent in by Colin Saunders (Hinckley).

Dr. Greer's End Of Year Message

16 December 2002

Dear Friends and Supporters of The Disclosure Project,

As 2002 ends, I would like to thank our friends, supporters and representatives for all of the hard work and dedication of the past 18 months. Since the launch of The Disclosure Project 18 months ago, we have reached hundreds of millions of people in virtually every country on earth with the truth that we are not alone and that the world needs Disclosure.

Since 9/11, this message has been seen as even more relevant: The illegal suppression of energy and propulsion technologies that could free the entire earth from our addiction to oil is seen as key to humanity's survival and to world peace. The foreign policy imperative of maintaining an endless supply of cheap oil from the mid-east to the US has direct relevance to the current issue of global terrorism and rising anti-Americanism. And yet the only solutions our leaders devise are more holes in the ground to get at more oil - and more war.

But the definitive replacement for internal combustion energy systems sits locked away in illegal and unconstitutional 'black projects'. As Ben Rich, Head of Lockheed Skunkworks said before he died, it would take an Act of God to get these wondrous new technologies out to benefit the world. But perhaps many people, like you, working together, can be that Act of God to get the truth out to the world and establish a new way of living peacefully on the earth.

Next year will be the year of these new energy Disclosures. We are planning a new National Press Club event to unveil the existence of these technologies and insist that their suppression end. World peace and decency demands it. Can there be a greater crime against humanity (and the earth that gives all of us life) than to continue to withhold so great a blessing out of fear and greed? It is our duty and our moral obligation to see that the truth is known and that these illegally suppressed technologies are brought forward to benefit all of humanity.

In February, we will be gathering in Palm Springs to meet and discuss these and other important matters, and to go out under the stars each night to meditate and create a time of Universal Peace. Please join us if you can. [see <http://www.cseti.org/programs/upcoming.htm> for more information on registering]

And please, continue to spread the word, in your communities and with your friends families and co-workers: The solutions exist, and we must compassionately Disclose them. Only then will humanity find justice and in that justice, Peace.

And once we establish Peace, the entire Universe will open its arms to all of us.

Wishing you the best of all worlds, and with profound gratitude for all of your support,

Steven M. Greer MD

A STRANGE ENCOUNTER IN A MANCHESTER STREET 1977

During a recent BBC Radio Derby broadcast, the subject of flying 'Rods' was under discussion. A woman listener now residing in Buxton, telephoned to describe an incident that happened to her several years ago in Manchester.

"I was walking down an ordinary road with houses on one side and houses on the other, there was also a school nearby with a playing field. I was on my way to visit my mother, in Charlton-Cum-Hardy. It was sometime in a summer afternoon between 5pm-6.30pm in 1977."

"As I was walking along I saw two lights come over a nearby rooftop, they were, round and very bright. I was walking on the left hand side of the road and they came over the rooftops the same side. As I remember it, one was travelling behind the other. They came down and stopped in front of me just for a split second and then sped off again taking up an oval shape as they whizzed over the nearby playing fields."

"I couldn't make out if there were any fins or aerials, the light was so bright it was difficult to see any shape. I immediately looked around to see if there was anyone else in the street, but there was no one."

"The memory of that has stayed with me over the years. I would love to know what they were, whether they were 'rods' or whatever."

"Ever since then, when I'm walking with my dogs on the common, I'm always looking around and aware of things, but it has never happened again. I'd love for it to happen again."

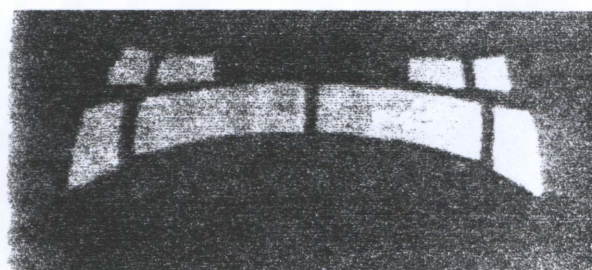

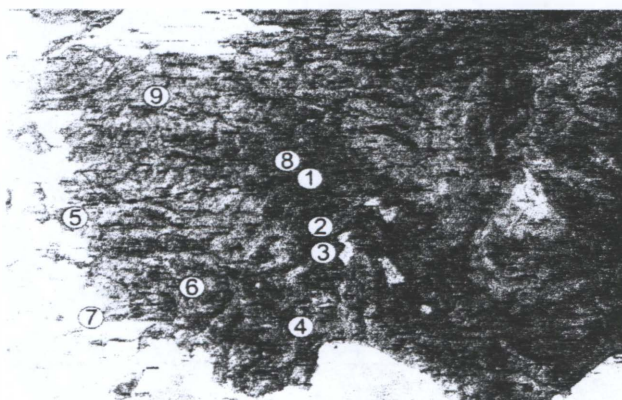

Editor's note: The last comment by the witness is typical of many people that have had a UFO encounter. They suffer from a form of shock at the time of the incident and on reflection comment that they would like to see 'it' again so that they could have a really good look at it! The balls of light seen resemble 'Orbs' of light rather than the recently discovered 'Flying Rods', which appear more as long 'tubes' with a series of fins down their side.

MYSTERY OF THE TURKISH UFO FLAP

On the 19th November 2002 the Sirius Space Sciences Research Center released a 'World Exclusive' statement on the Internet stating that six aircraft flight crews had witnessed intensive UFO activity over the Afyon area of Turkey. They claimed that up to 15 UFO's had been seen flying across various locations in Turkey (see map).

The Istanbul based Sirius organisation confirmed that several aircraft crews had witnessed the event, together with members of the public on the ground.

However space writer James Oberg claimed that the sightings had been a mis-identification of space debris from the Soyuz rocket 2002-050b, launched towards the International Space Station at 0311am on the 30th October. The video clip 'still' reproduced in 'UFO Magazine' January 2003 issue, would tend to confirm this.

The Evening Sky January 2003

The star constellation of Orion the Hunter dominates the January sky. Cast your gaze towards the southern sky where you will see three stars in a straight line. These three stars form Orion's belt. Two luminous giant stars mark the north-east shoulder and the south-west knee of this mythical figure: Betelgeuse (a red giant) and Rigel (a Blue giant).

Mercury moves into the morning sky but the winged messenger will be difficult to observe due to its closeness to the horizon. You will need to rise around 5 am to get the best view of Venus which is still brilliantly bright in spite of the fact that Venus is receding from the Earth. On the 28th of January Venus and the Moon appear side by side.

Mars is gradually growing brighter as it moves towards the Earth. Mars is a little hard to observe at the moment but you can watch it grow in brightness as the year progresses until Mars reaches a superb opposition in August. How exciting!

Jupiter is still visible all night long while Saturn shines only until the early hours on the morning. At the moment Saturn is a splendid object to see through a telescope. Saturn's beautiful rings are wide open and the division between them is clearly visible.

The Quadrantids meteor shower peaks around 10pm on the evening of the 3rd. The added bonus this year is that there will be a complete absence of moonlight on that night. Simply look towards the North Star and you will see a fountain of yellowish- green shooting stars.

Our little Earth is closest to the Sun on the 4th. This is the reason the Sun looks bigger in winter than in summer (because we are nearly 3 million miles closer to the Sun). We call this: perihelion. Full Moon occurs on the 18th.

Unfortunately black skies are now a thing of the past. The spectacular night sky our ancestors saw on a clear, dark, Moonless night no longer exists.

Today's light-glow brightens the night sky for everyone: you, amateur and professional astronomers, and me. It presents a particularly potent threat to professional astronomers. Most observations of cosmological interest deal with extremely remote sources: galaxies or quasars at great distances. Their light has travelled for billions of years, sometimes twice the age of the Earth, only to be lost in the glare of our civilisation during the last one thousandth of a second of its journey.

However, on a clear frosty January evening the naked eye view to the southern sky is so impressive it almost blows your mind away. That is about as good as it gets!

Enjoy Your Evening Sky!

TALE ENDERS

HOT OFF THE PRESS. A NASA photograph taken from a satellite studying the sun (inset). One of a series published in the 'Daily Star' on January 15th. They appear to show a UFO travelling along a 'Space Highway'.

The satellite that took the pictures had originally been set up as a joint NASA and European enterprise to study the Sun. But Boffins were shocked when it beamed back hundreds of images of what look like spaceships. They were even more staggered to find that the craft seemed to be following the same path - along an 'Alien Road.'

NASA has refused to comment officially on the images, but last year NASA expert Jill Tarter stated that she believed there was intelligent life in space. She said: "I think it is quite probable there is life, in fact intelligent life, elsewhere in our galaxy."

We have now learnt that the images from the 'SOHO' space observatory (above) will be screened at the National Space centre in Leicester on the evenings of January 24, 25 and 26.

PETER GREGORY IN PROFILE, will be featured in a future issue of the OVNI. Peter, a prominent UFO researcher and Psychic, has published details of his encounter with an Alien being under the title 'The Oona Story', which will also be reviewed.

THE B2 BOMBER MYSTERY. Information reaching us from an unnamed source has stated that the latest B2 Stealth Bombers are now fitted with an anti-gravity unit which reduces their gravity by 82%!

CRICH IN THE NEWS AGAIN. We have heard from Ms. Ruby Gold that there has been extensive UFO activity around the Crich, Derbys., area. The latest being a series of yellowy round lights on the evening of 9th January 03. Crich has been the scene of public demonstrations protesting against the Rolls-Royce Company, dumping nuclear material in a nearby quarry site.

CANADIAN NEWS. We understand that a new documentary called 'The Secret', is due to 'air' on the Discovery Channel, January 16th. This provides evidence for the cover-up of 'Operation Majestic 12'.

PRA MEETINGS FOR 2003 Will take place on the last Tuesday of each month, except December.

THE NEXT BBC RADIO DERBY 'UFO PHONE-IN' will be at 11am on Monday 10th February and will feature presenter John Holmes with your Editor, Omar Fowler. (104.5 MHz & 95.3 MHz).

ILKESTON LIGHT MYSTERY. Three white lights in triangular pattern were seen passing over Ilkeston on the night of 4th October 2002 at 8.55pm by PRA member Keith Rowland. "They maintained a uniform shape and there were no flashing navigation lights or any sound," said Keith. The lights were heading SE.

NEXT PRA MEETING

Will be held at the Royal British Legion, Allenton, Derby, on Tuesday 28th January at 8pm.

A video showing a TV film 'Roswell-Startling New Evidence', shown on American TV in November. It covers scientific investigations carried in October 2002 on the Roswell site.

Plus a review of the latest UFO sightings and a Free Raffle for a selected UFO book.

£1 on the night. Non-members welcome.
